Come and get it!

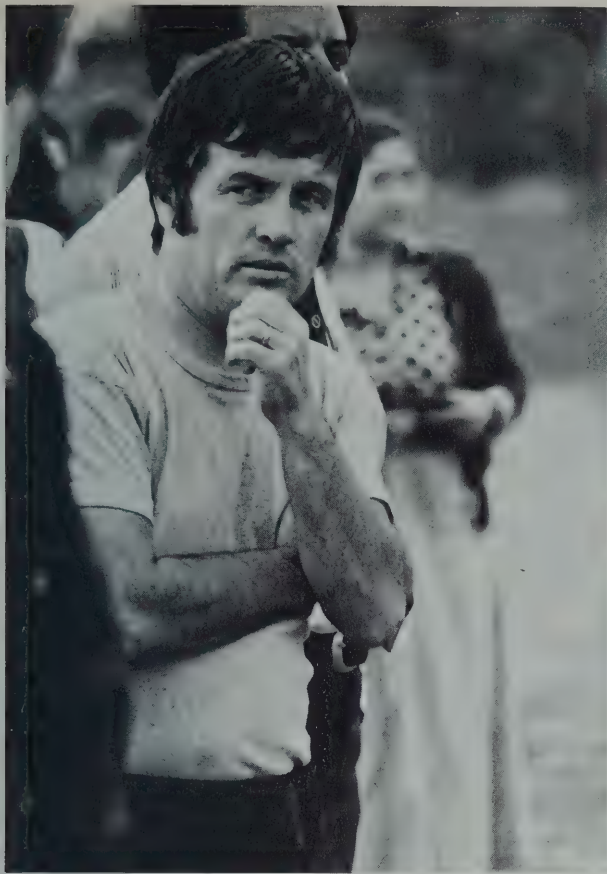

Can I play coach? Can I? HUH?

Hut one!! Hut two!!! . . .

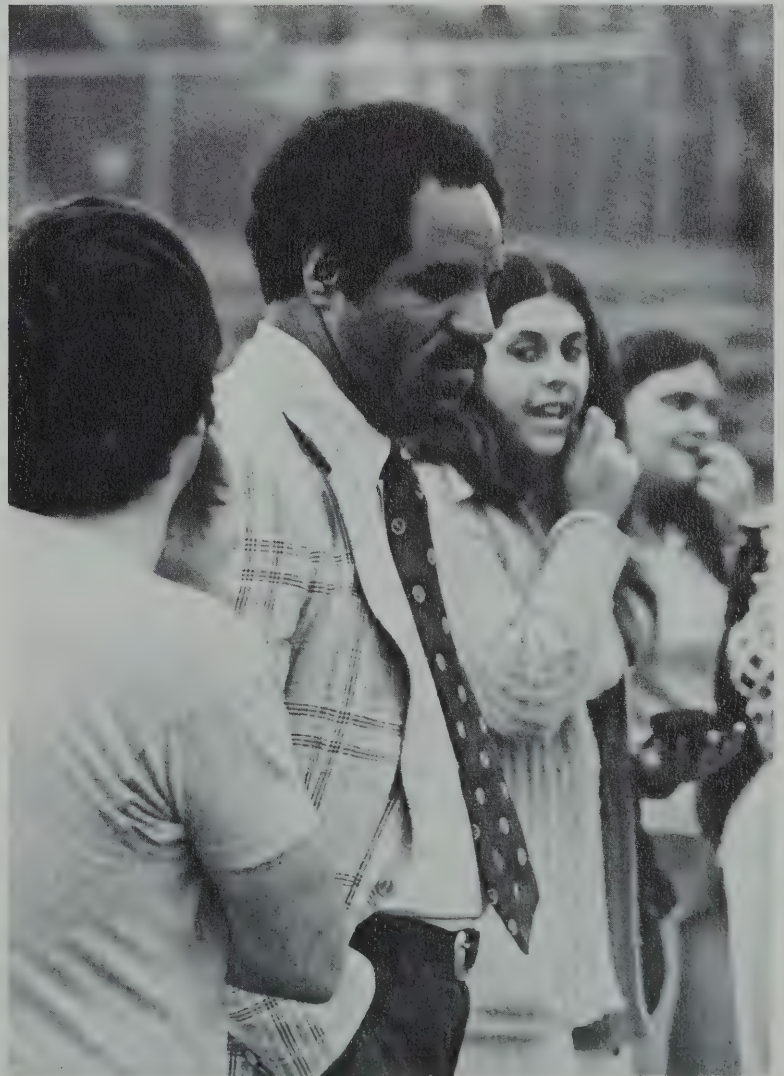

The hell with the game, check her out!!

You've got legs!!

Hold it, I need a comb

You're so cute Mr. Turner

That's not how you spell fumble

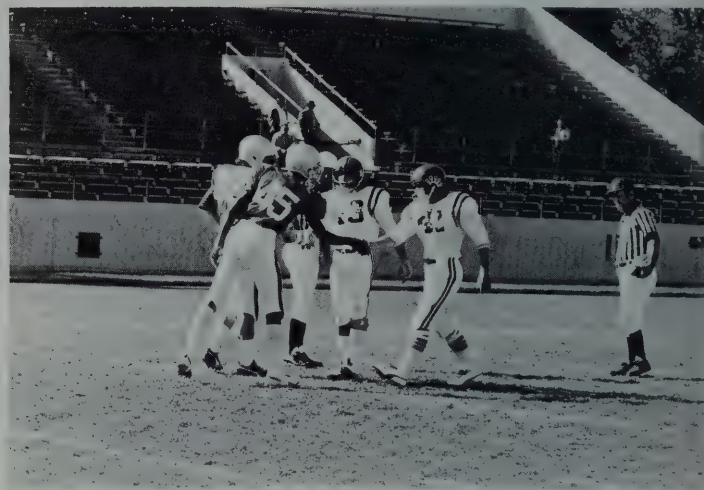

It's my secret

Quick, hide it, the coach is coming!!

Curse you Red Baron!!

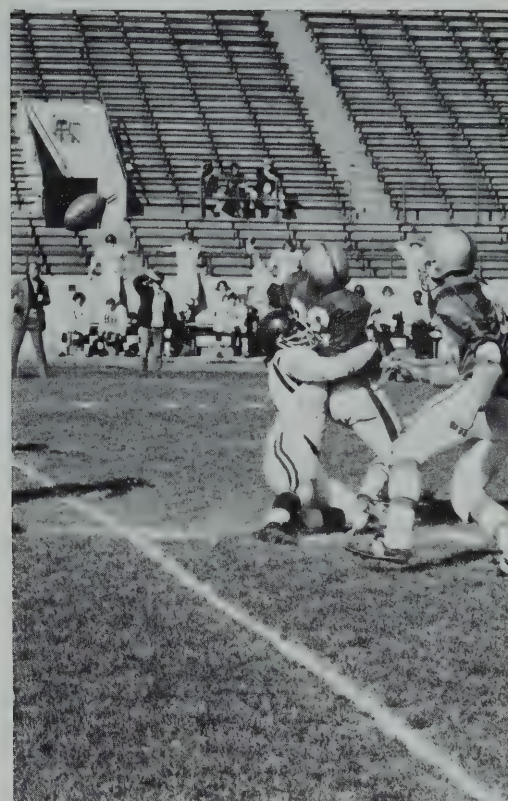

We'll pay ya later

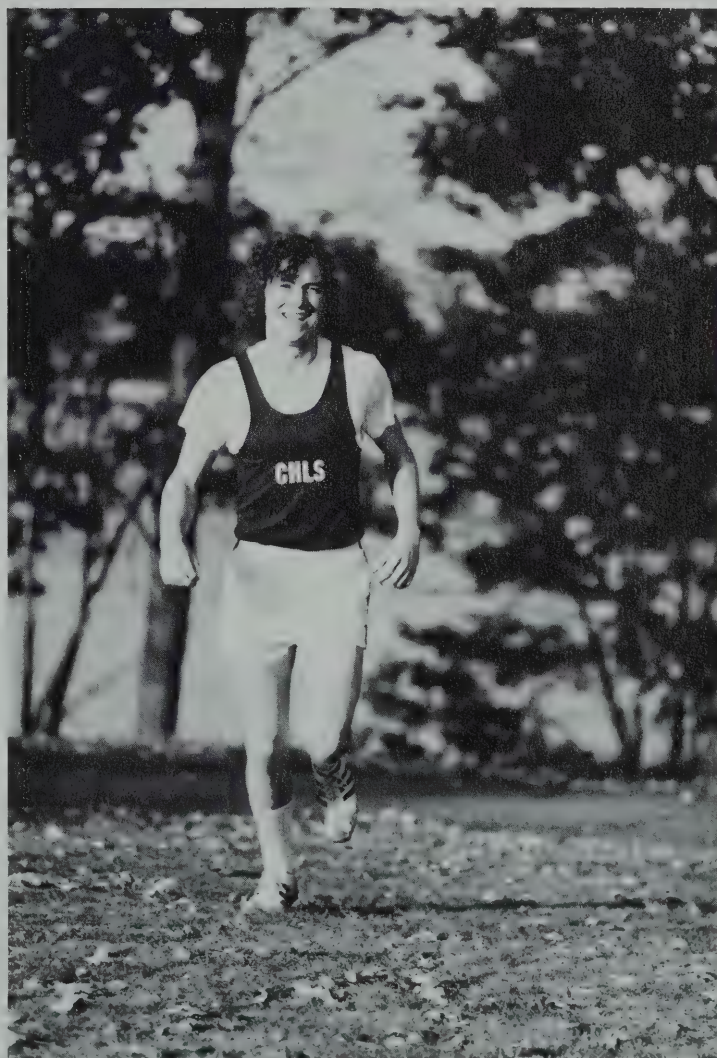

I wish he wouldn't ignore me all the time

Don't go, I love you!!

Get off my back!

John F. Toomey

One who will always be remembered in the hearts of both teachers and students. His presence in our school will long be missed.

Contrasts

How could one know joy
If sorrow would never appear
To grind its heel within your soul
And wring from the heart a tear?

What use would be a sunny day
If shadows would never fall
To hide a nonfamiliar path
And silence a cherished call?

How dull would be a life of calm,
Its pattern already laid!
But full is one which triumphs over
Impenetrable patches of shade.

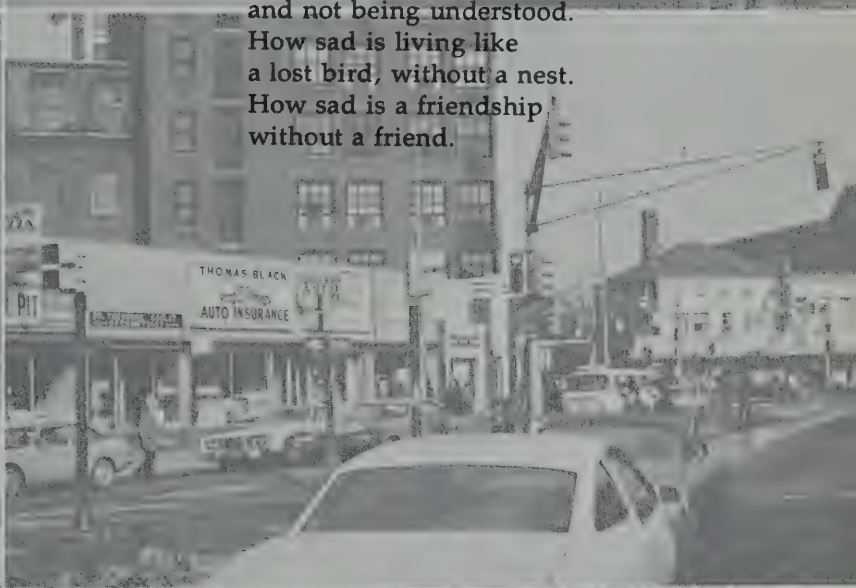

Lillie Mae Carter

THE OLD MAN

All he craved
Was
A little Social Security
And a wealth
Of love

Patricia F. Patton

How sad is living
and not being loved.
How sad is wanting to love
and not being understood.
How sad is living like
a lost bird, without a nest.
How sad is a friendship
without a friend.

Live to love;
love to suffer;
If you don't want to suffer,
don't love.
And if you don't love,
why do you live?

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

Our high school career got off to an uneasy start as the school committee decided to resume the nationwide search for a superintendent that had prematurely terminated a year earlier by the appointment of Frank Frisoli during the unrest of 1969-70. The furor culminated in a tumultuous school committee meeting, which was followed by several days of incessant false alarms (seven in one day).

One of the first events of our freshman year was the French Club's trip to the White Mountains, which, despite a long bus ride, was enjoyed by all.

Although it was two days late, the Turkey Day Classic, won by the Cantabs, generated the usual enthusiasm.

The music department celebrated the Yuletide with a caroler's march from City Hall to Harvard Square, where the band and choral groups performed Christmas carols as the gathering crowds joined in.

Beginning in January, a constitutional convention was held to replace the old Student Council and Student Union which had dissolved during the tense years preceding our arrival. The convention produced what promised to be a workable Student Government.

That spring also saw the start of permanent student representation on the school committee. We were all proud to note that the first student representative was a member of the class of 1975.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

The year began with general uncertainty as to who would be the new Superintendent of Schools. Alflorencia Cheatham was finally appointed and we settled back into our normal pace.

Our loss to Rindge in the Turkey game was forgotten as our ever improving basketball team, with a 12-4 record, became the Suburban League Champions and entered the Tech Tourney. The Cantabs were eliminated in the first round by Lexington, but the Warriors, coached by our own Mr. Culhane, went all the way in the Tourney to win the Division II crown.

After months of debate with faculty and administration, the CHLS Student Government finally came into existence. The results of the first election showed that the Student Government would be composed mostly of sophomores.

The highlights of the year were the Christmas Pops and the Spring Concert. Playing such pieces as the Nutcracker Suite, the William Tell Overture, and the 1812 Overture with incredible virtuosity, the CHLS orchestra delighted its listeners with continually superb performances.

The school year ended on a note of confusion as we switched to the new lunch schedule. Throughout the halls could be heard the despondent cries, "What lunch do I eat today?!"

JUNIOR YEAR

To begin our first year as upperclassmen, we welcomed our new headmaster, Michael Turner; he was replacing retiring headmaster Raymond D'Arcy, who moved across the street to be a consultant.

The soccer team drew capacity crowds as it compiled an excellent 11-3-2 record and went to the second round in the State Tourney. The football team scored its only win of the season in an 18-6 victory over Rindge. While the boys basketball team floundered in a winless season, the girls finished the year with a record of ten wins and five losses, a promise of great things to come.

In April, after years of fighting with the administration, the Student Government opened and managed a student-run student lounge. It was open only periods 2,3, and 4, but it was so successful that we could look forward to next year, when it would be open all day.

SENIOR YEAR

Our senior year began with a breathlessly close election: Leonard Vigilante beat Paul Chotkowski by three votes for class president, and Charles Robinson defeated Peter Clarke by one vote for v.p. John Balfe was elected treasurer, Connie Bettencourt secretary.

The lounge opened up for the full day and soon became an integral part of the school environment. We also were faced with the happy prospect that the boys cafeteria might soon become a sub shop and a pool and ping-pong hall.

The loss to Rindge in the Turkey game and the continued winless streak of the boys basketball team were redeemed as the girls basketball team became the Suburban League Champions with an astonishing 15-1 record.

The highlights of the spring were the ski trip, international week, and the senior prom, all of which were great successes.

It has been a good four years. We've seen many changes: a new superintendent and a new headmaster. We've also suffered some disappointments: the new high school will probably never be built. But as we look back on our high school days, let us hope, above all, that we left it a better place than we found it.

CLASS WILL

We the class of 1975, being of sound mind (?) and body (??), do hereby publish and declare this document to be our last Will and Testament.

Mr. Kimbrough, Mr. Samp, and Mr. Patacchiola — another happy year of the yearbook and many thanks.

Mrs. Mahoney — time to track down students who borrow books permanently.

Mr. McCarthy — a bag of Taco cheese-flavored Doritos.

Mrs. Ritterbush — a supply of paper for next year's elections.

Miss Mahoney — a supply of tea bags and healthy students.

Mrs. Eisenhaure — an alarm clock so you're never late.

Mrs. Cyr — many busy days at the hospital with plenty to do.

Miss Shea — students who are 4'11" and under.

Mr. Turner — the future students of Cambridge Latin

Mr. Weaver — an undefeated season with an All-America halfback and six 200 pound linemen.

Mr. Balfe — Bob Lanier, John Havlichek, Walt Frazier, Dave Cowens, Earl Monroe, and lots of luck.

Mr. Killilea — a shorter center-field fence and a pitcher like Sandy Koufax.

Mr. Landrigan and Miss McCabe — another class like ours, but of course NOT AS GREAT.

Mr. Joyce — two pairs of 4" platform shoes-one black, one brown.

Miss Brennan — senior cheerleaders who take gym.

Mrs. Walther — a class of virtuous senior girls.

Memories

There are so many memories
I have shared with you.
The beautiful thing is that I can See all of them happening all over.

We never had it so good or parted with it so fast.

Memories are golden to me,
and I think of them everytime
I think of you.

Friendship and love
are like beautiful, fragile creatures,
Immortal works of art,
built with tenderness and care.
They are crushed,
and crumble in your hand
if you cling,
and grasp too tightly.

Worry

A constant threat within your mind
A search for freedom you just can't find.
Although it is yearning to be set free,
it somehow won't just let you be!
Joan Facey

Honesty
is a hard weapon:
blunt and forceful,
or sharp and cutting.
But what it tears down
will leave room
to build something stronger.

The way of life is,
that sometimes we must say goodbye,
before we have had the chance to say hello.
Ann Vickers

EPILOGUE

Our time has come to say goodbye to many friends. We leave behind us four years of growing and learning. The halls that were once filled with our voices and footsteps will no longer hear us. The rushing and shoving we once did in the halls of Latin are all passed. The many laughs and tears we've shared with friends will be gone for many of us. Some of us will continue our education, others will marry, some of us will do other things. There will be some whom we will never see again. Whatever happens in the future, we will never forget the years of our lives spent here at Cambridge Latin. We may never pass this way again, and we will never forget that we once did.

Kathleen Graham
